Food For Our Future Campaign & Challenge

Have you ever wanted to cut your kitchen food waste and save money but not sure how?

South Cambridgeshire District Council and Cambridge Sustainable Food are teaming up to challenge communities in South Cambridgeshire to reduce their carbon footprint.

Launching in October with a Food Waste Challenge we will be bringing you online cookery workshops, recipes, talks, storytelling and other exciting activities to support you in reducing your food waste. We will be introducing you to some top local chefs, their favourite recipes and tips for reducing food waste.

Food waste is a major contributor to some of the environmental issues we face today, including climate change and world hunger. Did you know that UK households waste 4.5m tonnes of food a year that could have been eaten? This amounts to £700 for an average family with children!

We would love to hear from schools and other local groups that would like to join in the challenge! Why not team up with others in your neighbourhood? Challenge your work mates? Who can lower their carbon footprint the most?

We will be back with more about the challenge launch soon!
